

Writing a Letter

Read Aloud Activity

Everyone likes to get a letter, but most people don't like to write letters.

Writing a letter takes effort. You have to organize what you want to say. You also have to spell the words correctly and write clear sentences.

Informal letters are friendly. They tell the reader what you did recently and what you plan to do soon. They also include interesting information about relatives and friends.

Sending photos with a letter is a good idea. If you decided to include photos, be sure to write the date and the names of the people and places on the back of them.