

Washing the Dishes

A. Reading

Judy and Chrissy do the dishes every night after dinner. Judy is twelve years old and Chrissy is eight. Their parents have eight children, so there are a lot of dishes to wash and dry.

Since Judy is older, she washes the dishes and Chrissy dries them. Judy likes to do a good job. She carefully washes and rinses the dishes, but her sister Chrissy is careless. She wants to finish the dishes quickly so she can go outside and play with her friends. She doesn't care if the dishes are still wet when she puts them away in the cabinet. She is in a hurry to get them done quickly so she can ride her bike with her friend Adriane and go to the park to play.
