Friendly Ghosts

They like to wave to the kids that walk past their house on Halloween. They smile at the kids and tell them to come ring their doorbell but the kids are afraid of them because they are ghosts.

These ghosts are cousins and they have been living in the same house for over one-hundred years. Adults don't believe in ghosts so they can't see them. Most of the children in the neighborhood only see them on Halloween.

There is one little girl named Suzie who visits the old house and plays with the ghosts in the backyard. She brings them oatmeal cookies and they play hide-and-seek.
