

ESL Teacher

A. Reading

Mrs. Sanchez is an ESL teacher. She works in the computer lab at her school, and she is seven months pregnant with her first child. She is worried because her husband started a new business, and it is not making any money. They have been using her income to pay the bills, but it isn't enough. They can't afford to pay for health insurance much longer. Her husband wants her to take three weeks off after the baby is born and then look for a full-time job with health insurance. The problem is that there are only a few full-time ESL teaching jobs. Most ESL teachers are hired part-time, and they don't have health insurance. What can Mrs. Sanchez do? How can she solve her problem?
